At this time a strife is going on in the United States between Romanism and its friends on the one side, and Protestantism on the other. We are aware that some who are now advocating the claims of the Roman Catholic Church will object to a discrimination between them and Protestants, but there is no intermediate ground. A warfare is going on between political Romanists and Protestants; and though a man may appeal to the culture of a Protestant mother-though he may loudly protest that all his predilections are for the cause of Protestantism, if his voice is for Romanism, if he pleads for it, can he be regarded as a Protestant? What availeth professions, when every action of the man is against them? Reader, what do you think of an editor's Protestantism, who would appeal to the powers that be to silence a colemparary because he writes an article on the evils of Romanism? What a thorough contempt should we feel for any man who, feeling his consequence, thinks, by his ipse dixit, to deter one from the free and independent expressions of thought. We nerves himself and strikes for the claims of Popery, inflicts a wound on Protestantism. NINE CENTS AND SEVEN MILLS! The war is actually going on; it is a contest between political Romanism and Protestantism. Can any man who has a particle of love for Protestantism, hesitate as to what course he should pursue? Can any man doubt for a moment under which invasion, but when the civil liberties of our MILLS! land; bequeathed to us by the hallowed blood of our revolutionary sires are trampled in the dust and despired.

There is no such thing as separating the Popery. "The Treasury Enters Pre-How they gain-READITE

Our readers have often observed in our aper the term "Treasury Enters," as uplied to the Red Lodge Clique, who have ald control of the county offices for the last twenty years, or more. Running thro' the Diplicates in the Auditor's office some time since, we were struck with the chofnous and onorous increase of taxes for the past fifteen years. Curiosity led us to look at the "Grand Total" of the taxes laid upon our citizens for State, county, and other purposes, as they came upon the Duplicate for collection off the tax-payers.

In 1840, when Irmeaster and Fairfield county did quite as much business as she provided for casting all kinds of metaldoes now, the Grand Levy was THIRTY-AND TWENTY-SIX DOLLARS NINE-NY THREE CENTS AND FIVE MILLS!

"Nat Cook" and the Young America"...

Real merit will sooner or later win its way to favor, and when once it is known, no opposition can long retard its progress -while pretenzion will in due time find its proper level. We make this remark in reference to the Springfield firm of Mason, Cook & Blakely-to whom we referred in a former number-the builders of the new and fine working logine in Snyder & Kinman's mill; littl who, in the repairs lately made to our Young America Fire Engine. have added another to the many proofs of their skill in enginery. Nothing in this line comes amiss to them. Busides their extensive Foundry, in which they have iron, copper, brass, &c., their machine SEVEN THOUSAND TWO HUNDRED shop is ample enough for all the work of a wide extended region. And we are glad to learn (as we recently have from those who ought to know) that their perseverance, faithfulness and skill are reaping a rich reward in a just and noble apprecia-
